What is amazing about Debbie’s dog?

GIA: AN AMAZING DOG!

Three years ago, Debbie broke her neck in a car accident, and now she can’t move her arms or legs very much. She gets around in a wheelchair.

Last year, she got a dog to help her with the many things she cannot do. She is amazed that Gia can turn on the lights and answer the phone. In fact, he can answer eighty different commands.

When they go shopping, he picks items off the shelves, puts them in the shopping cart, pushes Debbie’s wheelchair, and then, he pays the cashier. The cashier is amazed by his behavior!

Debbie got the amazing dog from a nonprofit organization near Vancouver. It costs them $8000 to train dogs for people with disabilities. Debbie paid $125 and the organization paid the rest. They are a nonprofit organization: they don’t want to make money; they just want to help people.
