Intonation of Wh-questions and Yes/no questions

Competition No. :_HK06

Author(s): Jiayi Zhong, Claire

Affiliation(s): Fung Kai No.1 Primary School

Target Students: Primary Five

Prior Knowledge :

1. Students are able to define Wh- and Yes/no questions.
2. Students' previous vocabulary ensure they can dub the lines in the movie clips

Corpus Used: The Spoken English Corpus of Chinese and Non-Chinese Learners in Hong Kong (Chen, H. C. (2020)). (stated as The Spoken English Corpus below)

Retrieved from: https://corpus.eduhk.hk/esl_learner_corpus/#/home

Other Resources Used:

- 1) Voice-overed Animation movie clips retrieved from movie Wacky Vacation - LEGO City: Airport - Mini Movie <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=q-0yTGVRPvk> (For academic purpose only)

Lesson Duration: 70 minutes (double lessons)

Learning Objectives

By the end of the lesson, students are able to:

1. Identify the rising and falling intonation
2. Summarize the patterns of intonation related to the question types
3. Apply the rising and falling intonation to Wh- and Yes/no questions accordingly
4. Voice over the question sentences in a movie clip.

Lesson Background :

Though intonation is essential in English language, few of my primary students pay attention to it. To address this issue I designed this double lesson. It focuses on teaching P5 students the appropriate intonation patterns of Wh-Questions and Yes-No Questions via a corpus-aided PPPPP approach including Presentation, Problem Identification, Problem Solving, Practice and Production stages.

During this lesson, a task-based teaching method will be also included. At Presentation stage, the teacher will create a scenario for students that they will attend a voice casting to apply for a position of a voice actor/actress. At Problem Identification stage, teacher will check students' understanding of the appropriate intonation patterns of Wh-Questions and Yes-No Questions and showcases the visual and audio presentation of different sound tracks from an animation movie clips. Students' awareness of the intonation patterns will be raise in this stage. At Problem Solving stages, students will be guided to conductively sum up the appropriate patterns of the target intonation. Authentic corpus data will be used to help students realize the commonness of intonation misunderstanding among themselves and then do the self-correction. At Practice stage, Focus-on-Forms (FonFS) and Focus-on Form (FonF) practices will be applied, including read aloud in groups and voice over the the movie clip. At Production stage, students will voice over the rest lines in the movie clip and evaluate each other's performance then select the winning group to 'get the job'.

Before the lesson student will be asked to watch a flipped video to cater for their learner diversity. After the lesson, students are asked to create some more lines including Wh- and Yes/no questions for the movie clip and record their voice.

Intonation of Wh-questions and Yes/no questions

Worksheet

1. Listen to the sound tracks and circle the correct answers.

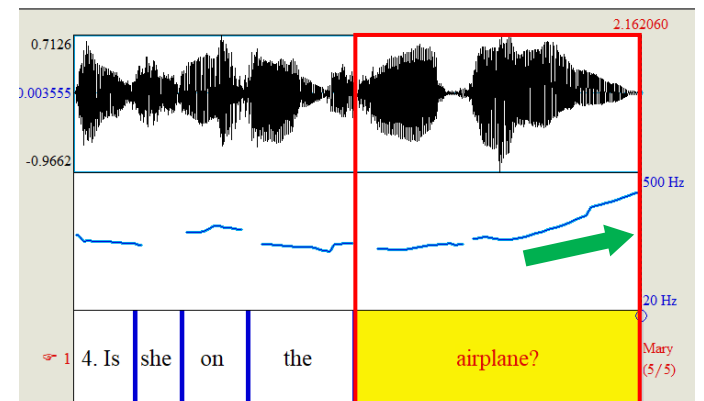

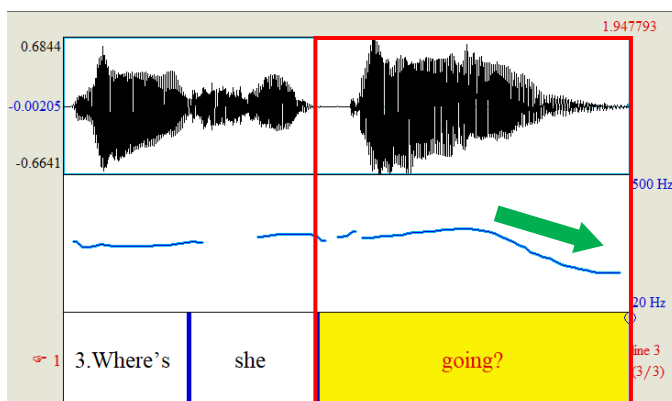

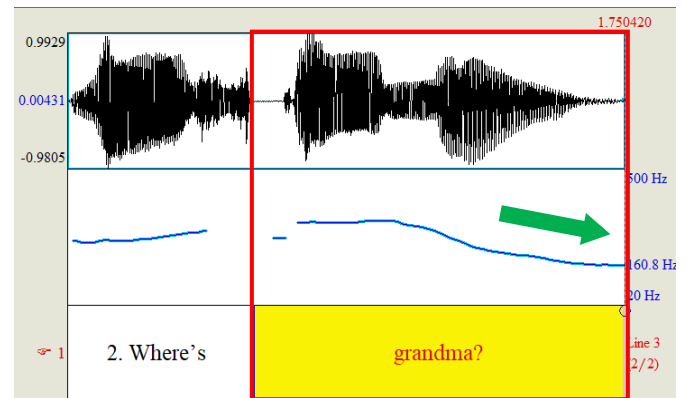

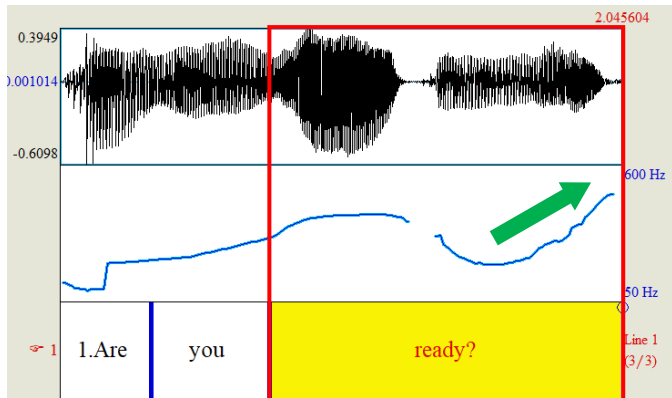

LEGO CITY WACKY VACATION		Question Type		Rising or Falling?
		eg. Where are we now?	Wh-	Yes/no	↗	↘
		1. Are you ready?	Wh-	Yes/no	↗	↘
		2. Where's grandma?	Wh-	Yes/no	↗	↘
		3. Where's she going?	Wh-	Yes/no	↗	↘
		4. Is she on the airplane?	Wh-	Yes/no	↗	↘

2. Observe the ending tone in the speech analysis images below. Then check your answer above and discover the intonation pattern by yourselves!

The intonation pattern (circle the correct one)

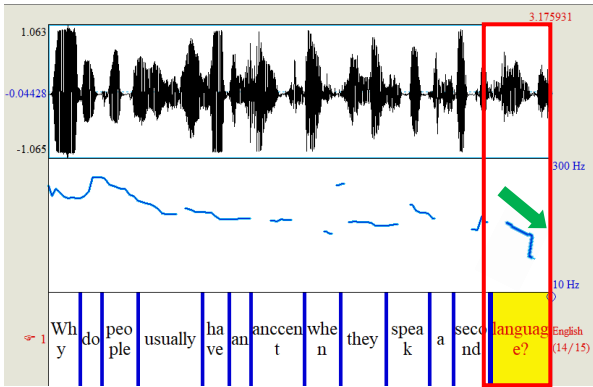

Wh-Questions: The ending tone is going (up / down).

Yes-No Questions: The ending tone is going (up / down).

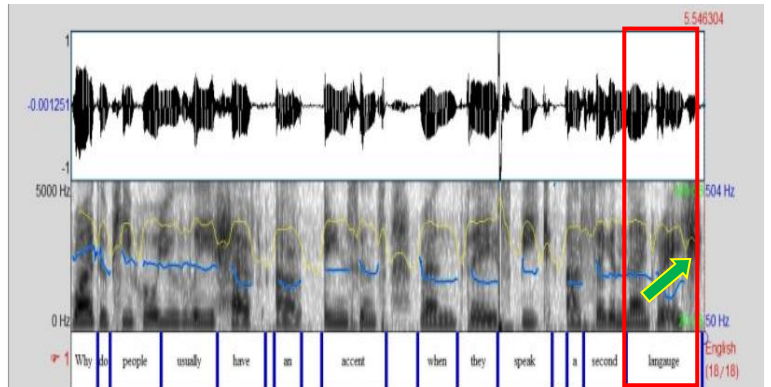

3. Listen, watch and compare the ending tone in the sound tracks from native and local speakers.

	Question Type	Native British Speaker	Speaker: HK07
Q1. Why do people usually have an accent when they speak a second language?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘	↗ ↘
Q2. Does this mean that accents can't be changed?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘	↗ ↘

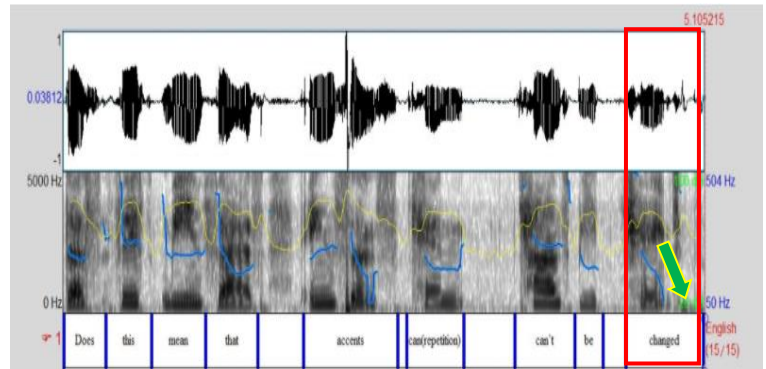

Native British Speaker Q1

Speaker: HK07 Q1

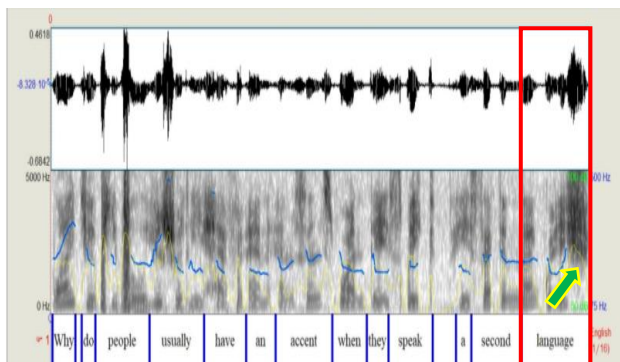

Native British Speaker Q2

Speaker: HK07 Q2

4. According to the pattern you found, is Speaker: HK09 using the appropriate intonation?

Speaker: HK09	Rising or Falling?	Right or Wrong?
1. Why do people usually have an accent when they speak a second language?	↗ ↘	√ X
2. Does this mean that accents can't be changed?	↗ ↘	√ X

Speaker: HK09 Q1

Speaker: HK09 Q2

5. Define the question type and the intonation then voice over the question sentences in Scene 2 in groups.

	Question Type	Rising or Falling?
5. How can we get her?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
Drive the car!
6. What is happening?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
Hello.
7. Can you hear us?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
Let me do it.
Oh no, father's on the plane.

6. Define the question type and the intonation then voice over the question sentences in Scene 3 by yourselves.

8. What can we do now?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
Let's be the pilot!
Not again!
9. What is going on?!	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
Oh no!
10. Did you see an airplane?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
11. Where is grandma?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
We got you.
Grandma!
12. Are you here all the time?	Wh- Yes/no	↗ ↘
Oh, no our plane!

7. Homework: create two new Wh- and Yes/no questions for this movie clip. Voice over the lines you wrote.

Evaluation

Please rate the following statement (mark '1' for strongly disagree and '9' for strongly agree).

	Strongly agree
I enjoyed today's English class.
After this lesson, I can pronounce correctly the intonation of Wh-Questions.
After this lesson, I can pronounce correctly the intonation of Yes-No Questions.
I think my English intonation is better
I want to improve my oral English more.
I think the recordings from the corpus are very helpful.

Thank you for your feedback!

~The End~

Lots of activities are designed. Not sure whether all the activities can be completed. It would be nice if activity 6 may involve pair work/reading.
